President's Message

IADC's Value: Superior Advocates, Global Perspective

The IADC is better and more diverse than ever thanks to each and every one of our members and to those who have had the opportunity to serve a leadership position with the IADC. We are what our logo says – an association of superior advocates with a truly global perspective.

The IADC remains separate and apart from all other legal organizations, and we are well positioned globally and for the future. But, we cannot sit still. Our profession is rapidly evolving. The demographics, interests and goals of those entering the practice of law today are far different than they were just 5 or 10 years ago. Lawyers are now connected with other lawyers and clients across the globe.

Now, more than ever before, lawyers, insurance executives, law firms, and corporations are concerned about VALUE. I think it is fair to say that VALUE includes those assets and opportunities that afford lawyers the chance to become even better lawyers. The IADC is VALUE. Right now, the IADC offers our members an effective and expansive global platform, business development and networking opportunities, increased visibility, educational

INTERNATIONAL CORPORATE COUNSEL COLLEGE // 15 - 16 OCTOBER // VIENNA, AUSTRIA

The International Corporate Counsel College brings together in-house counsel and their law firm counterparts for two days of education and discussion on the latest legal issues affecting global companies. This year's program will be held October 15 and 16 in Vienna. The programming was developed by Director Daniela Karollus-Bruner of CMS Reich - Rohrwig Hainz Rechtsanwälte GmbH in Vienna, Austria, along with an advisory board of in-house counsel representing companies throughout Europe and North America.

The selected program topics this year include "The Art of Choosing an Arbitrator;" "(Collective) Damages Claims - A Whole New World;" "The Wild West: Litigation Financing - A Threat or a Blessing?;" "It's a Jungle Out There - Which 'Predators' Should You Know?: The Criminalization of Business Behavior;" "Do You Speak IT and Why Should You?;" and "Does Your Company Value You and Your Team?"

The location of the meeting is also exceptional. Vienna is a beautiful and rich city with much history. A handful of tours are available to participate in, allowing you opportunities to explore and experience Vienna, including an Imperial Treasury Walking Tour and a "A Tribute to Vienna" - The Spanish Riding School and Vienna Boys' Choir.

You will not want to miss this opportunity to see your international friends and colleagues and network to make new contacts. Registration is open on the IADC website at www.iadclaw.org and the brochure is posted which includes more information and details.

IADC Releases Findings From Inaugural 2015 Inside/Outside Counsel Relationship Survey

Seeking a better understanding of the relationship between lawyers in law firms and lawyers in corporate legal departments, the IADC recently conducted its 2015 IADC Inside/Outside Counsel Relationship Survey. The report revealed there are key areas where inside and outside counsel are not always on the same page.

The survey included responses from 386 attorneys currently working in a corporate legal department and 303 lawyers currently working for a law firm. The majority of both groups were in leadership positions within their legal departments or firms.

To view a PDF of the survey results or read the press release with highlights of some of the findings, please visit the IADC Inside/Outside Counsel Relationship Survey page under the Publications tab on the IADC website.

43rd Annual Trial Academy Recap

The 43rd Annual Trial Academy took place from August 1 to 7 at Stanford Law School in Palo Alto, California. A sold out program of 96 students and 14 faculty members participated in mock trial exercises. Brilliant demonstrations were given on opening and closing arguments, and direct and cross examinations of expert and lay witnesses. Faculty and students enjoyed learning from each other and getting to know other trial lawyers.

Students were impressed by just how close the week came to creating the atmosphere surrounding a real trial. By day four, everyone began feeling the effects of sleeping very little, performing a specific element of trial each day, and networking in the evening between preparation periods for the next day's exercises. However, the investment of time and energy was definitely paying off and sharpening their trial skills.

The faculty named themselves the Silver Glatiators after their leader Spencer H. Silverglate of Clarke Silverglate, PA in Miami, Florida. Students praised the attention they received from their faculty advisor and praised the practical insight they provided. The faculty became mentors as each group of faculty and students bonded into strong units. The affection and respect was obvious during the closing dinner as each faculty member stood with pride and recounted an anecdote from his or her group.

Next year, Donald F. (Fritz) Zimmer, Jr. of King & Spalding, LLP in San Francisco, California will serve as the 44th Annual Trial Academy Director. Special recognition goes out to this year's faculty members for the generous donation of their time and expertise: Donna L. Burden, M. Warren Butler, Emily G. Coughlin, Asim K. Desai, Gustave A. Fritchie, III, Alex J. Hagan, Bradford B. Ingram, James W. Jennings, Jr., Jeffrey R. Johnson, Gerry Lowry, Christine A. Marlewski, Stephanie M. Rippee, James F. Rogers, and Henry M. Sneath. The IADC also thanks its sponsors InCourt Technologies and RGL Forensics.

HELP RAISE $100,000 FOR SANDRA DAY O'CONNOR LEGACY FUND

The Foundation of the IADC donated $100,000 to the Sandra Day O'Connor Legacy Fund to benefit iCivics in April. At the 2015 Annual Meeting, The Foundation issued a challenge to the IADC members and their firms and companies. Together, let's match the $100,000 with another $100,000!

We're happy to report that IADC members and their firms and companies have already donated and pledged more than $40,000 toward that goal! That total includes a $5,000 pledge by the Penhooligans Trial Academy faculty, a $5,000 pledge by the Campbell Souperstars faculty, and a $5,250 pledge by the Silver Glatiators. These faculties challenge other Trial Academy faculties and groups of IADC members to make pledges to the Legacy Fund. We have about $60,000 to go to meet our goal, and every dollar counts!

Thank you to those who have donated so far. If you would like to make a donation, please use the form and send your donation to iCivics. If you are part of a Trial Academy faculty or other IADC group of members who would like to donate and have iCivics send you invoices, please contact Mary Beth Kurzak at mkurzak@iadclaw.org to coordinate.

forums and lifelong personal relationships.

But we must continue our efforts to evolve as an organization. We must grow, expand, and continue to diversify. We must use our collective imaginations and creativity to identify the VALUE SPACE for the IADC in the years ahead. As we do so, we cannot ignore or forget what makes the IADC so unique and what separates the IADC from all other organizations. Keeping in mind our core values and mission, the Board and other leaders throughout the organization are focused on our "20/20 Vision Strategic Plan." This plan, approved by the Board of Directors during its July meeting, has been created to define and deliver VALUE to our members as we approach the IADC's centennial celebration in 2020.

You will be hearing more about the 20/20 Vision Strategic Plan in the coming months. It is a plan through which the Board has studied every major aspect of what the IADC does, including the benefits it offers, membership recruitment and demographics, committee structure, staff and office resources, outreach and visibility efforts, and technology. As part of this plan, the Substantive Law Committee leadership has already been asked to offer its input on where their committees need to be positioned to address the issues and opportunities in their practice areas. I encourage each of you to get involved and provide your input and creative insight into the future of the IADC. Your advice is a key to our future success.

The IADC Board is dedicated to providing you VALUE today and in the years ahead. The 20/20 Vision Strategic Plan will give us additional structure to do so, and we look forward to continuing to position the IADC as a critical asset for you and your practice. Stay tuned for more on the plan and our progress in the coming months.
