

Minos van Joolingen

Minos van Joolingen is a partner with BANNING Legal & Tax in the Netherlands and is head of the Competition & Procurement practice. He worked for many years in Brussels, the heart of the EU, which gave him broad experience in advising and litigating on cartels, the abuse of dominant positions and state aid. He represents (international) companies in litigation before the European Commission, the Netherlands Competition Authority and the civil courts. He also advises and represents companies frequently in commercial agreements and litigation.

Minos is a visiting lecturer at educational institutions, trade associations and bar association(s). He represents listed and family owned companies. Key markets are: food & beverages, consumer electronics, retail, construction and automotive.
