Sandra Wunderlich is a partner in the St. Louis office of Tucker Ellis LLP. She has a diverse litigation background, with a particular emphasis on intellectual property consulting and litigation. An experienced trial lawyer, Sandy has been lead trial counsel in a dozen jury and bench trials. Over the past 25 years, she has litigated intellectual property matters from the cease-and-desist stage through appeal. Sandy has also represented large pharmaceutical manufacturers, agricultural and industrial manufacturers, a Fortune 50 company, and large national banks and credit arms of Fortune 100 companies in areas including mass tort and product liability, medical device and pharmaceutical liability, financial services litigation, and in other complex litigation. She serves as Chair of IADC's Intellectual Property Committee, and she actively speaks and writes for organizations including IADC and DRI.
