Berkeley Research Group, LLC (BRG), a longtime IADC sponsor, is represented by IADC member Bob Craig. After retiring from an in-house career managing litigation for four major U.S. companies, Bob began assisting litigators, both in firms and in-house, with the identification and selection of experts for their complex cases. BRG is a global consulting firm that helps leading organizations advance in three key areas: disputes and investigations, corporate finance, and performance improvement and advisory. Most work done for IADC lawyers has been in the disputes and investigations sphere, with economic, financial, and industry experts provided in a range of disputes including IP, antitrust, class actions, products, construction, general business, employment, and energy.

iDS

Founded in 2008, iDS provides consultative data solutions to corporations and law firms around the world, giving them a decisive advantage – both in and out of the courtroom. With decades of experience, iDS subject matter experts and data strategists serve as guides through the complex world of eDiscovery, digital forensics, and data analytics, providing valuable insight into the unknown, the unseen, and the undiscovered. With the ability to testify and defend the strategies they recommend, iDS is able to stand behind the solutions they provide, ensuring that data can be leveraged as an asset and not a liability.
