Professional Liability ROUNDTABLE

MAY 30
GLEACHER CENTER
UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS USA

PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY ROUNDTABLE

Sponsored by the IADC Professional Liability Committee, Medical Defense and Health Law Committee, and Insurance and Reinsurance Committee, the Professional Liability Roundtable (PLR) is a one-day CLE program. Through a series of interactive panel discussions, PLR creates a forum for in-house counsel, outside counsel, and insurance claims representatives to learn together and discuss new developments in the professional liability arena. Beyond the educational opportunity, PLR participants are able to network with lawyers and industry professionals from multiple jurisdictions both during the program and at a concluding reception.

Programming Content

PLR includes afternoon tracks for professional liability and medical liability, as well as morning insurance programs, making this a full-day multi-specialty roundtable. All attendees participate in the final closing panel and concluding reception.

What's Old is New Again: Cyber Liability Insurance

Over the past 15 years, cyber liability insurance has been discussed and evaluated as an area of emerging risk. The existence of this risk is no longer "new," but the circumstances giving rise to coverage are ever evolving. Heavy foreign involvement, including overt and quasi-governmental actors, have added a layer of complexity that must now be addressed. Time, litigation, and claims experience has provided some guidance as to how to effectively underwrite, handle, and, where necessary, litigate these claims. This panel will discuss the current state of risk, lessons learned, and the future of cyber liability.

Moderator: Arnold F. D'Angelo, Jr., Zurich North America, Schaumburg, IL USA

Attorney Wellness and the Risk of Liability and Regulatory Scrutiny

It is now almost axiomatic that the legal profession, along with the privileges and prestige it enjoys, also carries along with it one of the highest rates of substance abuse and mental health issues amongst all professions. The ever-mounting statistics do not show much improvement over the years, and concerns of attorney wellness have substantial implications in professional liability. This presentation will examine the topic of attorney wellness from two perspectives: a clinical perspective, as well as one highlighted by cautionary tales and real-life consequences. The panelists will aim to identify early signs of problematic behavior and explore different coping strategies.

Speakers: Michelle Belford, LCPC, Allow Wellness, Chicago, IL USA; Michael Zhang, Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP, Chicago, IL USA
