

DUES STRUCTURE FOR CORPORATE AND INSURANCE MEMBERS

Our corporate and insurance members have noted issues with shrinking budgets for CLE and networking, and we have heard them! The IADC is acutely aware of the financial challenges faced by corporations and insurers in these difficult times and has responded by enacting the following initiatives which make joining our association economically attractive:

- New corporate and insurance members will have complimentary dues for their first full fiscal year of membership. (The IADC fiscal year runs November 1 to October 31.)
- The initiation fee will continue to be waived for new corporate and insurance members.
- If corporate or insurance members attend one of the following IADC meetings during that first fiscal year, they will receive a waiver for their next fiscal year's membership dues.
 - Midyear Meeting
 - Annual Meeting
 - Corporate Counsel College
 - International Corporate Counsel College
 - Trial Academy (sending a student to the Trial Academy)
- If a corporate or insurance member does not attend one of the above listed meetings during that first fiscal year, he or she can renew his or her membership for approximately 50% of what outside counsel members pay.
- Then each year going forward, all corporate and insurance members are eligible for a dues waiver if they attend one of the meetings noted above during that prior year. Otherwise, the annual dues will continue to be an amount set by the Board of Directors that is approximately 50% of the outside counsel dues.
