

FOUNDATION FORUM SPEAKER – KIMBERLEY MOTLEY

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 24 10:15 - 11:30 A.M.

Affectionately nicknamed “911,” Kimberley Motley is the first and still only Westerner to practice law in Afghanistan’s courts. She is also currently working on cases in Uganda, United Arab Emirates, and the United States, and is expanding her commercial and human rights practice. She spends nine months of the year living in Afghanistan, defending foreigners to the country, Fortune 500 companies, embassies and ambassadors, and women and children in human rights cases, which have involved everything from accusations of drug trafficking, battery, and murder. This former beauty queen, crowned Miss Wisconsin in 2004, has independently won freedom for countless victims, such as a six-year-old child bride, a 15-year-old girl raped and imprisoned, and a British ex-soldier accused of bribery. Motley is a registered attorney for more than 20 embassies, including the United States, United Kingdom, France, Italy, and Germany, as well as an attorney for the French, Italian, UAE, and UK embassies and ambassadors.

The feature documentary about her work, Motley’s Law, was released in the fall of 2015, and won the Grand Jury Prize at DOC NYC, New York’s Documentary Festival. Her expert legal work and legal research and precedent has earned international attention with segments on CNN, the BBC, NBC, and Dan Rather Reports, as well as articles in The New York Times, Vanity Fair, The Guardian, The Washington Post, and The Huffington Post, among many others. Motley has also published several articles on juvenile justice and contemporary legal issues in Afghanistan. She is currently penning a book chronicling her experiences as a Western attorney in the Middle East. In her lectures around the world (including at TEDGlobal), Motley shares her breadth of international law and her experiences handling criminal, commercial, civil, and human rights issues. She is the daughter of a North Korean refugee mother and an ex-military African American father, and initially served as an attorney with the Wisconsin State Public Defender’s Office, where she litigated hundreds of criminal, civil, and juvenile cases ranging from misdemeanors to felonies.

The Foundation Forum speaker is sponsored by the IADC Foundation.

CENTENNIAL FUNDRAISER COOKBOOK

For the IADC’s Centennial in 2020, The Foundation of the IADC plans to produce a cookbook to raise funds for the Foundation and celebrate the camaraderie, family, and friendships that are such a special part of the IADC.

In the cookbook, we would like to include a recipe from every country, state, and province in which we have an IADC member. We will need your help! You can submit recipes that are traditional, family favorites, or perfect for entertaining. We want members to be able to gather around the table with these recipes and experience and share in the special community we have.

To submit a recipe or for more information, visit the Centennial Fundraiser Cookbook page under “How to Contribute” at www.iadcfoundation.org.

If you have any questions on the project, please reach out to Chair Jim Rogers at jim.rogers@nelsonmullins.com or IADC Foundation Executive Director Mary Beth Kurzak at mkurzak@iadclaw.org.

Purchase a raffle ticket ($100.00 USD each) when you register for the meeting or onsite at the IADC Information Desk or Theme Party. Our raffle package is courtesy of The Omni Grove Park Inn in Asheville, North Carolina USA, home of the 2019 Annual Meeting. This raffle prize includes two (2) nights accommodation with two 60-minute massage treatments. The drawing will be held at the Dinner Dance on Wednesday, February 27. You do not need to be present to win.
