

M. Patrick McDowell
Brunini, Grantham, Grower, & Hewes, PLLC
Jackson, MS

Patrick McDowell's practice focuses on complex litigation in federal and state trial and appellate courts, including the defense of federal multidistrict and multi-state litigation, class actions, mass torts, and parens patriae actions. He has represented healthcare insurers and food producers in multidistrict antitrust class actions; telecommunications providers in multidistrict securities and ERISA class actions; employers, insurers, banks, and television service providers in federal class actions; drug and product manufacturers in multidistrict and multi-state mass tort actions; and drug manufacturers, healthcare insurers, and finance companies in parens patriae actions. He serves on IADC's Class Actions & Multi-Party Litigation Committee, DRI's Commercial Litigation Committee and Class Actions Specialized Litigation Group, and the ABA's Class Actions & Derivative Suits Committee.

Patrick is licensed to practice in the state and federal courts of Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, and Georgia. Before joining the Brunini firm, Patrick served as a law clerk for the Honorable William H. Barbour, Jr., Chief Judge of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi. Patrick has been recognized by Mid-South Super Lawyers® for Business Litigation; by Best Lawyers© for Commercial Litigation, Litigation—Securities, Mass Tort Litigation/Class Actions, and Product Liability Litigation; and by Benchmark Litigation© as a Mississippi Local Litigation Star and a Fifth Circuit Appellate Star.
