

Elizabeth Papez
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Washington, DC

Elizabeth Papez is a partner in the Washington, D.C. office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP and a member of the firm's litigation group. Her practice focuses on high-stakes class actions, complex commercial litigation, and related government investigations and appeals.

As a seasoned litigator and former U.S. Deputy Assistant Attorney General, Ms. Papez has substantial experience representing clients in the financial services, pharmaceutical, consumer, and product sectors. She regularly handles federal class actions, multidistrict litigation (MDLs) and other complex commercial disputes under federal and state antitrust statutes, banking and securities laws, and false claims acts, as well as parallel regulatory investigations with the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC), and the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

Ms. Papez has been repeatedly recognized as one of Benchmark USA's Top 250 Women in Litigation nationwide, which named her a "client favorite" who is "extremely smart and practical and very charismatic," and is praised by peers as a "fierce, dynamic, bright, powerhouse of a litigator." Ms. Papez is also recognized in The Legal 500 for her antitrust and appellate work, and by The Best Lawyers in America 2019 for her appellate practice.

Ms. Papez has been honored for her advisory work with corporate general counsel, and regularly speaks before Congress and professional organizations on legal developments relevant to her practice. She is a Trustee of the U.S. Supreme Court Historical Society, a member of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Committee on Administrative Law & Regulation and Edward Coke Appellate Inn of Court, a board member of the New Civil Liberties Alliance, and the recipient of an award from the Innocence Project for her pro bono defense work.

Ms. Papez clerked for U.S. Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas and Judge Danny Boggs of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit, and received her law degree from Harvard Law School, where she was the Supreme Court Chair and Notes Editor of the Harvard Law Review
