

Daniel W. Gerber

Mr. Gerber has 20-plus year's accumulated knowledge litigating and advising on "bet the company" insurance difficulties. He acts acting as national coordinating counsel for several insurers. He has immense understanding of all facets of international insurance markets from London to Bermuda. During the Greek financial crisis, he coordinated with the Greek government on insurance solutions. Mr. Gerber has unique cross-border transactional and regulatory expertise in portfolio transfers and insurance structural arrangements. He is a Registered Foreign Lawyer in England and Wales. He also offers expert testimony in complex insurance and extra-contractual matters. He also has assisted in the passage of insurance legislation – having advised the key parties supporting Vermont's Insurance Legacy Management Act. Mr. Gerber was named the Insurance and Reinsurance Lawyer of the Year (United States) by Lawyer's Monthly Magazine. He is consistently listed as one of the top insurance and reinsurance lawyers in the world by the prestigious Who's Who Legal (Insurance and Reinsurance). He possesses an AV rating from Martindale Hubbell; a Super Lawyer designation from Law & Politics Magazine; and, has been named by his peers to Business First's Who's Who in Law. He currently serves as a National Director for the Defense Research Institute (DRI), and is also a Board Member for the Defense Association of New York (DANY). Dan is an author for multiple chapters of Appleman on Insurance (Third Edition) and New Appleman's Insurance Law Practice Guide, as well as being an editor of the Reinsurance Professional's Deskbook.
