

Albert C. Hilber

Albert C. Hilber is a Director with Swiss Re. He attended Rutgers University Law School while on full time active duty in the U.S. Air Force. He is admitted to both the NY and NJ bars and holds a number of insurance designations including the CPCU, RPLU, FMLI, AIC, and ARe. Al obtained his undergraduate degree in civil engineering from NYU-Poly.

Al was recently appointed the Head of Swiss Re's Key Case Management unit. The Key Management Unit provides advice and participates in the oversight of the largest (re)insurance exposures that Swiss Re faces on a global basis. Al has been a lead negotiator in resolving many of the largest coverage disputes Swiss Re has faced over the past 13+ years and has been the lead in-house counsel in a number of major international arbitrations. The claims he is involved with span virtually all lines of coverage from general/product liability, to D&O liability to property and specialty. He is on the board of the International Association of Defense Counsel (IADC). Albert is an advocate of ADR. He is on the U.S. Advisory Board of the International Institute for Conflict Prevention & Resolution (CPR) and New York Law School's ADR Program Advisory Committee. .

Before joining Swiss Re Al was a litigator in private practice for 14 years. He provided counsel to London Market and International Insurers on some of the most significant environmental claims in history (Love Canal, Times Beach) and was a member of the team that oversaw the umbrella liability program of the then largest US retailer.
