

Timothy Jabbour

Timothy Jabbour is a partner in the Litigation practice. His practice focuses on the representation of foreign and domestic insurers in both state and federal courts. Tim has more than 15 years of experience litigating defense matters and complex insurance coverage disputes in New Jersey and across the country. His extensive litigation experience includes handling complex coverage and defense matters across various lines including commercial general liability, complex pollution/toxic tort, professional liability, products liability, employment practices liability, cyber/privacy liability, first party and marine. Tim is the Managing Partner of the New Jersey office of Tressler, LLP.