

Katherine P. Lett

Katherine P. Lett is Senior Counsel with Norton Rose Fulbright in Dallas, Texas. Katherine has a national practice primarily focusing on pharmaceutical and medical device defense. She has over eighteen years of experience representing global pharmaceutical and medical device companies in complex products liability and commercial litigation in state and federal courts throughout the country.

Katherine has served on national counsel teams for major pharmaceutical and medical device litigations in which she has developed key company witnesses and company defense theories, investigated the crucial scientific, pharmacovigilance and regulatory issues, and participated in trials, discovery and motion practice in various jurisdictions throughout the United States. She also has extensive experience implementing national settlement programs for mass tort litigation.

In addition to her civil litigation practice, Katherine is co-chair of The Dallas Office Women's Initiative, which fosters business development opportunities and mentorship for women. She also serves as an adjunct professor at the UNT Dallas College of Law and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Epilepsy Foundation of Texas.
