

Beth Henderson
Microsoft Corporation
Redmond, Washington

Beth Henderson is a Senior Attorney in the Office of the General Counsel at Microsoft, where she leads the company's Pro Bono program. Prior to joining Microsoft in 2012, she practiced US immigration law in Philadelphia. From 2006-2007, she served as an Attorney Advisor for the New York City Immigration Court through the U.S. Attorney General's Honors Program.

In addition to leading Microsoft's Pro Bono program, Beth is an active pro bono volunteer with several organizations, including Kids in Need of Defense (KIND), Seattle Clemency Project, Northwest Immigrant Rights Project (NWIRP), and Lawyers Fostering Independence. She also serves on the Board of Directors for KIND and the Legal Foundation of Washington, which raises, manages, and distributes funds to provide civil justice to low-income individuals.
