

Jamie Spataro
FedEx Ground Package System, Inc.
Coraopolis, Pennsylvania

Jamie Spataro is currently Lead Counsel in FedEx Ground's Regulatory Law Group in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and serves as the Co-Chair of FedEx Ground's Pro Bono Committee. Jamie co-founded FedEx Ground's Education Law Project and he served a two-year term representing FedEx Ground on the Board of the Pittsburgh Pro Bono Partnership. For the past ten years, Jamie has handled a broad range of regulatory matters for FedEx Ground including workplace safety, environmental, sustainability, international trade compliance, hazardous materials transportation and other regulated commodity issues.

Prior to joining FedEx Ground, Jamie was an associate at K&L Gates in Pittsburgh for five years where he practiced environmental, products liability and toxic tort defense litigation. While at K&L Gates, Jamie volunteered his time representing protection from abuse clients for Allegheny County's Neighborhood Legal Services Association. Jamie is a 2003 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh School of Law.