THE PRESENTATION:

Phoning It In...Issues of Liability, Insurance Coverage, and Administrative Regulation in Telemedicine

With increased connectivity and faster internet speeds, telemedicine is easier and more practical than ever. However, telemedicine raises some unique issues such as when the practitioner lives in a different state or country from the patient, what licensing and medical board rules apply, what insurance coverage requirements apply, and how is the fact a remote healthcare provider is involved in a patient's care documented in the medical records. Also, telemedicine allows for unique liability claims and strategies for defense of those claims. This Webinar will provide insight into some of these interesting questions regarding telemedicine.

THE PRESENTERS:

Mary Behm (mbehm@hinklelawfirm.com)

Hinkle Shanor LLP, Albuquerque, NM

Mary Behm devotes her practice to the defense of medical providers in a variety of practice areas, including but not limited to hospitals, medical groups, physicians, nurses, nurse practitioners, physicians assistants, CRNAs, physical therapists, and occupational therapists. Ms. Behm has tried numerous trials in defense of her clients. She is a strong advocate and is a firm believer in the litigation process.

Walter J. Price (wprice@huielaw.com)

Huie, Fernambucq & Stewart LLP, Birmingham, AL

Walt Price puts his specialized medical litigation experience to work to defend hospitals, physicians, and nursing homes in medical malpractice actions. In addition to medical professional defense, Walt focuses on pharmaceutical and medical device claims, mass torts, and the defense of insurance bad faith cases. He has tried more than 40 jury trials to verdict in 15 Alabama counties, as well as the U.S. District Courts for the Northern and Middle Districts. He has argued before the Alabama Supreme Court and the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals, and has handled one case that went before the U.S. Supreme Court.
